RULING ON ENTITLEMENT<sup>1</sup>

On February 3, 2021, Ivan Boyd filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, et seq.<sup>2</sup> (the “Vaccine Act”). Petitioner alleges that he suffered a shoulder injury related to vaccine administration (“SIRVA”) as a result of an influenza vaccine received on December 12, 2019. Petition at 1. Petitioner further alleges the vaccine was administered in the United States, he suffered the residual effects of his condition for more than six months, and no lawsuits have been filed, or settlements or awards accepted by anyone, including Petitioner, due to his vaccine-related injury. Petition at ¶¶ 5-6; Ex. 7 at ¶ 8; Ex. 2 at 750. The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters.

On May 22, 2023, Respondent filed his Rule 4(c) report in which he concedes that Petitioner is entitled to compensation in this case. Respondent's Rule 4(c) Report at 1. Specifically, Respondent agrees that "petitioner had no apparent history of pain, inflammation, or dysfunction of the affected shoulder prior to intramuscular vaccine administration that would explain the alleged signs, symptoms, examination findings, and/or diagnostic studies occurring after vaccine injection; he more likely than not suffered the onset of pain within forty-eight hours of vaccine administration; his pain and reduced range of motion were limited to the shoulder in which the intramuscular vaccine was administered; and there is no other condition or abnormality present that would explain petitioner's symptoms." Id. at 7. Respondent further agrees that "the records show that the case was timely filed, that the vaccine was received in the United States, and that petitioner satisfies the statutory severity requirement by suffering the residual effects or complications of his injury for more than six months after vaccine administration." Id. Respondent also notes that Petitioner has averred that he has not filed a civil action or received compensation in the form of an award or civil settlement for his injury. Id. at 7-8.

In view of Respondent's position and the evidence of record, I find that Petitioner is entitled to compensation.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
